Verizon smart family companion app

If you have a Verizon account, then you have access to a Verizon parental control set, for a small monthly fee. Verizon Parental Control allows you to track the location of your family members and better control what apps and content your kids use and when they use them. Controlling your child's internet sharing is important, and mobile parental control is one of their parties. Incorporating Verizon's parental controls on your account is as easy as signing up for the service and then customizing each of the features that are available at your purchase level. To enable the service, log in to your Verizon account and visit the Verizon Smart Family page, and then select Get it now in the image header at the top of the page. To get an app to set up and monitor the service, you need to enter your phone number into the text box and then choose Send. Or you can simply download the Google Smart Family app from the Google Play Store or the Apple App Store. In the app, select the plan you want to sign up to, agree to the Consent Agreement, and then select the lines you want to manage and name them so that you know which family member they belong to. Once connected, you'll see a screen for each family member. Click on the first letter of their name at the top of the screen to see their page. On each page you will see a map at the top that shows their current location. In the middle you will see activity on the Internet and the app, as well as a graph of bars the volume of phone calls. Below you'll see the management options for all Verizon parental controls. To view the activity of web applications, you need to install the Smart Family Companion app from Google Play or Apple Store. This app gives you access to much more information about activities on your child's phone. To track your child's mobile phone location and receive location updates, click Location Alerts at the bottom of the page. You can click Places and Alerts to get alerts when your child arrives or leaves a certain location, or click Scheduled Alert to automatically check their location at a fixed time of day, then click Add Warning and use configuration settings to set up details alerts. Places and Alerts requires the Installation of a Smart Family Companion app on your child's phone. From the main screen tap limits to limit screen time, use of data, purchases, and texts and calls; Time limits: Set a school or sleep schedule to prevent your child from using the phone when they shouldn't. Data Target: Set a data usage limit. Purchase limit: Set a monthly account purchase limit Text restriction: Set a numerical limit on the total number of texts your child can send each month. Call limit: Limit monthly minutes of phone calls. From the main screen, click Contacts to control your child's mobile communications: click blocked contacts to list numbers you don't want your child to ever communicate with. Click Trusted Contacts to set the numbers that your child can call or text at any time. Click Top Contacts to view list were often contacted with phone numbers. You can manage family members' permissions and adapt your settings notifications. To access the settings, tap the gear icon in the top right corner of the main screen. To assign family permissions to your phone number, first click family settings. Choose the phone number you want to set up. You can view the family role of the number (child/parent), change the name, or touch the location sharing to provide access to the location information of that line to parents, all family members, or disable the shared location. To set up notifications, click Notifications from the Settings menu, and then select the child you want to set up notifications for. You can turn on or off mobile or electronic notifications on the notification settings screen for any of the following steps. A new contact is added contact number on your watchlistUses your phone during school hoursUse your phone in nightCalls 911 You can also turn on or off the feature where you will receive a weekly report by emailing all of your child's activities on your phone. Thank you for letting us know! Tell us why! I agree with all the other negative reviews. Whoever made it up must have had an insane amount of trust issues. It not only destroyed the relationship between me and my parents, but also my brothers. Our whole family fell apart Because this app. Even if parents may have the right intentions, there is no good way to tell your kids that you will start tracking them by monitoring their data, and turn off their phones when it is convenient. When you gave your kids a phone, you gifted it to them, you can pay phone bills every month, but your DICING is your kid to make the right decisions. U no longer have to control your phone. This shows a lack of confidence, and as a result your kids will start to think that they can no longer trust u, reach out to you, and count on u. Also, it is not very effective. Yes, we are children/teenagers, but parents underestimate how smart we are. My brothers and I learned how to hack the app and went 3 months until our parents found out that there is a way to override their control. As a result, they got rid of the app and just like that our family connections started to build again. If you think managing your kids personal phone is now ruining your relationship, then by all means download this app. If you value and cherish the bond with your child, then don't even try it. Microsoft Office: Word, Excel, PowerPoint - More than 16.0.13530.20130 Microsoft has a way to disable a VPN generated by a companion app without disabling other services.
